Information Requested:

I am currently a second year radiotherapy student studying at the University of the West of England Bristol, and I'm writing an assignment on Service improvements initiatives for Radiotherapy. I have come across an article on Velindre Cancer centre's website about a initiative written by Steven Hill a planning radiographer at the centre. I am aware this initiative has won two awards and would love to be able to write about it in my assignment. however I can not find it anywhere online. I believe the initiative is called ' Radiotherapy initiative for end-of-life care.'

Here is the link to the article for
