Information provided for the answer:

Thank you for your recent request.

I have considered your request and having liaised with the relevant department, please find the information held:-

The information requested is available already in the public domain at the following link,

<https://www.vsqip.org.uk/reports/>

The vascular services quality improvement programme has been established to drive the quality of care for patients with vascular disease in the UK and the vascular society has been running national vascular audits for many years.

The link above show the annual reports and details the mortality from AAA and also lower limb amputations as requested. Each of the recent annual reports include both appendix and an NHS organisational data viewer so that you can access information at the Health Board level. These reports cover UK so gives a national data and comparator. One key thing to note that as the numbers are small for some of these categories the reports tend to report over a period of years. This is important as small numbers can give unrepresentative results just by the effect of chance and can lead to incorrect conclusions been drawn.

I hope that this information is of assistance.
